How to read this file

The score	A weighted average of every parameter that applies to this asset class. A small number of findings cap the score outright instead of pulling the average down, because a missing approval is not something a good kitchen makes up for.
The coverage	How many of the applicable parameters were actually assessed. A high score on thin coverage is a weaker claim than a lower score on full coverage, so both are printed together and never one without the other.
The price	A negotiating position, not a valuation certificate. It is built from registered transactions in the same tower or the same sector, and the argument behind it is set out in full later in this file.
The sources	Every finding names where it came from and how strong that source is, from a certified record down to something a seller asserted. Anything we could not verify is written as unverified.

What is wrong here

This file scores 82.9 out of 100 and reads as recommended. No finding caps the score. The weight lost sits mostly in rental yield (gross), price per sq. yard benchmarking, liquidity / ease of resale.

Rental Yield (Gross)	Material
One point six percent gross. Thin even for the segment.
Price per sq. yard benchmarking	Negotiable
Ask implies 10.3 lakh per sq ft against 9.1 to 9.7 registered in the same tower.
Liquidity / Ease of Resale	Negotiable
Small buyer pool at this ticket, but the address carries it.
Expected Capital Appreciation (5 yr)	Negotiable
Base case twelve percent is defensible for Golf Course Road.
Zoning & FAR Compliance	Verified
Built form within sanctioned FAR.
Occupancy Certificate / Completion Certificate	Verified
OC on record.

Parcel identity

Licensed colony or HSVP sector. The khasra was extinguished at acquisition, so identity is sector, block and plot. The DTCP licence schedule lists the khasras the colony was carved from.

Score by category

Category	Score	Weight	Reading
Construction Quality	91.3	22%	What an inspector measured on site rather than what a brochure claimed.
Legal Safety	90	22%	Title, ownership, encumbrance and litigation. The heaviest block on any resale file and the only one that can void a purchase outright.
Regulatory Status	90	10%	Land use, zoning, FAR and the certificates that make a structure lawful to occupy.
Developer Credibility	85	12%	Delivery record, RERA history and how past buyers were treated.
Neighborhood Quality	75.3	9%	Connectivity, air, water, drainage and what is planned nearby.
Financial Viability	60	17%	Price against registered comparables, yield, liquidity and the cost of exit.

Every parameter assessed

Coverage, sources and limits

The title conclusion rests on a certified copy of the 2019 conveyance rather than on the online record alone. 20 of 194 applicable parameters were assessed, which is 10 percent coverage. The mean evidence confidence is 0.72 on a scale where a certified record is 1.00 and an undocumented assertion is 0.15.
